FRANK VICTORY IN HIGH COURT

Entire Body Will Pass Upon Prisoners Right to Seek Release on Habeas Corpus.

HIS FREEDOM IS IN DOUBT

Washington, Dec. 29.—Justice Lamar of the United States supreme court has granted an appeal from the refusal of the federal district court for northern Georgia to release on habeas corpus proceedings Leo M. Frank, under death sentence for the murder of Mary Phagan, 15-year-old factory girl of Atlanta, Ga.

As a result of Justice Lamar's action the entire court now will pass upon Frank's right to seek release on a writ of habeas corpus on the ground that trial court judge's action over him by his failure to have him present when the verdict was returned.

Should the court decide that Frank was entitled to ask for the writ, the case probably would be remanded to the district court for the taking of evidence, but should the supreme court decide that he was not entitled to the benefit of the habeas corpus writ the state of Georgia would no longer be barred from imposing the death sentence. In the event the supreme court eventually decides that Frank must be released from custody, it was said a further question, about which there is uncertainty, would arise as to the power of the state to indict and try him a second time.

It is said authorities differ as to whether the first trial would be regarded as having placed Frank in "jeopardy."

Frank has been sentenced to be executed January 22, but this action causes a stay in the carrying out of sentence.

This was the second time Frank's fate has rested in Justice Lamar's hands. After the Georgia supreme court declined to set aside the verdict of conviction, Justice Lamar was asked to issue a writ of error for the supreme court to review the case. He declined on the ground that no federal question was presented, thus making as question of procedure were for the states to decide. Eventually the entire court, pursued the same course.

Application was then made to Judge Newman in the Georgia federal court for Frank's release on a writ of habeas corpus, but Judge Newman refused to grant the writ. He also declined to grant an appeal to the supreme court because he was unwilling to issue a certificate of "probable cause." Today Justice Lamar held that several questions involving Frank's constitutional rights existed giving rise to "probable cause" for the appeal and issued the certificate.

MANUFACTURERS ARE IN SESSION

Favor Workman's Compensation Bill Which Gives Employers Option in Choice of Method.

The regular annual meeting of the Oklahoma State Manufacturers' association is in progress this afternoon at the Skirvin hotel.

At the morning session only reports of committees were heard. During the afternoon session, the organization considered the draft of a workman's compensation bill which it will present to the coming session of the legislature.

The organization will favor a plan which requires every employer of labor in the state, except in domestic farm or similar pursuits that are not considered hazardous, to provide insurance for his employees. The organization, however, opposes a bill such as is favored by organized labor which requires all employers to subscribe to the state insurance fund plan. The general outline of the plan favored by the manufacturers is to permit employers to choose one of several methods of insurance, either to furnish the insurance themselves, to arrange with some surety or other insurance concern for protection, to provide mutual funds for compensation or to participate in the state insurance fund.

The election of officers of the association is scheduled to come up just before adjournment late this afternoon. Adam L. Beck of the Oklahoma Portland Cement company of Ada is president and Paul R. Smith of this city, secretary of the organization.

GERNER AGAINST THE SINGLE TAX

State Auditor Assistant Believes Oklahoma System Best Possible.

The single tax idea as promulgated by some of the advocates of that principle is not exactly favored by Hugh Gerner, tax accountant in the office of the state auditor, according to a letter he has written F. E. Packard, chairman of the North Dakota tax commission, in reply to questions asked by the Dakota man. Packard attended the tax commissioners meeting at Norman several days ago and listened to a paper prepared by Mr. Gerner.

In replying to the letter of inquiry Mr. Gerner says:

"There is only one just
